

LOCAL NEWS.

J. L. Clark is in Casa Grande. Hon. Adolph Solomon, of Teviston, was in town this week.

The Graham County News is no more. Our old friends, Tom Newland and wife are going to Magdalena, Sonora, to live.

Dr. WARNER—the well-known dentist—will be in Globe on the 26th instant. Our mining editor visited the Total Wreck mine this week. Description next week.

There is a host of teams along the road between Globe and Wilcox. God help the teamsters. Agent Wilcox's letter to Teller has excited a great deal of indignation in Globe, where the parties attacked live.

Mr. Robb brings back exceedingly pleasant recollections of courtesies received at the hands of the Tombstone Journalists. A great deal of interesting editorial and local matter has been crowded out of this issue to make room for the reasonable articles on the editorial page.

The Clifton Clarion has been enlarged to twenty-eight columns, although not yet two months old. It is edited with marked ability. A handsome silver card-receiver, now on exhibition at Geo. Newton's, will be given to the lady who sustains the best character at the masquerade ball.

We have just been favored with a map, executed by the son of J. W. Eddy, President of the A. M. B. Road, of the proposed line of the road. It is splendidly executed. The Indians on the reservation have no regular way of planting—some of them putting in their seed broadcast and others in bunches, like corn. The whole of it looks thrifty.

A Mormon teamster got angry with one of his horses and beat him to death with a shovel. The affair occurred down near Gilson's. He ought to be beaten to death himself with the same shovel. Rinehart made ice in his artificial lake in the Pinal mountains. It is inches thick. When it is considered that the mercury gets very little below the freezing point, this seems remarkable.

An entertainment will be given at the hospital on Tuesday evening, March 27. There will be coffee, cake, ice-cream, dancing and cards. Admission 50 cents. Go and see how tastefully the rooms are fitted up, and help the Association at the same time. Judge G. A. Allen recently returned from his ranch on Salt River. He reports grass growing rapidly and at least two weeks in advance of that growing in this vicinity. Stock is looking fine. The Judge pronounces this the most forward season he has ever known here.

Go to church on Sunday evening if you want to hear some good music. The organ will be replaced by a piano, and the choir—Mrs. Spence, Messrs. Brookner, Hitchcock and Hanks, with Mrs. Chas. Fick as accompanist, will sing "Christ our Passover," and Lloyd's Easter anthems.

Mr. Vaughn is sinking a well on the flat a few miles south of Globe, and is down 175 feet without reaching water. Thomson's well, farther up, is the same depth, and he has an abundance of water, but the valley is narrower and as a consequence the water is confined to narrower limits. Mr. Charles T. Connell, of San Carlos, is in luck. On the 11th instant his amiable and accomplished wife presented him with a nine-pound daughter. The young Connell starts out in life with a record—the first white child born on the San Carlos reservation. Mother and child are doing finely.

Read the telegrams on this page! Will the papers that sustain Crook and Wilcox acknowledge the justice of the position we have taken on this Indian question? The papers in Tucson and Prescott are out of the line of Indian troubles, but those of Tombstone and Globe are not. The Republican and Epitaph feel, as we feel, that our respective camps are being hurt by these annual outbreaks, and are outspoken and honest, but the Tucson papers want pap, and the Prescott ones are shadowed by the wall of Whipple barracks. There is neither business, patriotism, common sense or honesty in sustaining political vampires like Wilcox, or fabled soldiers like Crook, at the expense of the brave prospectors who are sacrificed upon the cupidity of the former and the inefficiency of the latter. We must have a general whose eyes are open, an Indian agent who is honest and a Secretary of the Interior who does not and will not condone thievery.

The Bell Demands Wilcox's Resignation and Secretary Teller's Resignation.

Tombstone, March 22, 1883.

This afternoon a report reached this city of a terrible conflict between cattle men and Mexicans in which it is said that six men were killed. It occurred at Morrisons ranch on the Barbaomari river about twelve miles from Fort Huachuca—owing to the distance from this place and the absence of telegraphic facilities we are unable to learn the cause at this hour, but it is probably an outgrowth of a cattle dispute between the two factions; great excitement prevails and a party left this evening for the scene.

LATER—A courier has arrived from Charleston who states that a man who was engaged in the fight states that a party while engaged around some newly discovered coal fields were attacked by a party of twenty-five Indians without warning and several men were killed and three wounded. The party from Charleston left this evening with wagons to bring the bodies in. A corner of this city left at 8 o'clock for the purpose of holding an inquest.

[The military on the move—six companies in the field. It is also reported that three hundred White Mountain Apaches have left the San Carlos reservation.—Ed. Belt.]

HERMOSILLO, Mexico, March 22, '83. Reports reached here late last night that the Apaches were on the war-path in the mountains northeast of Ures and east of the Colorado. News are reported killed some distance from Ures; also that a pack train going from Barbaomari to some mines east of there was attacked and had one of their mules killed. Several shots were exchanged and it is supposed one Apache was killed.

There was one special train from Guaymas to Carbo with troops and two from here to that place. One of the special trains had five cars for the cavalry. Government officers say that they have 2,000 troops in the field and no further trouble is expected.

LATER—A courier just arrived at Carbo who says the troops are on the trail of the Indians and expect to find them to-night. WILCOX, A. T., March 24.—Four men just in this morning discovered two dead bodies of white men that were killed by Indians four miles from Point of Mountains toward Wilcox. Moccasins tracks were found all around the dead bodies. The clothing was stripped from them. They are supposed to be men who left here yesterday.

LATEST—A man was killed last night at Total Wreck mine by Indians—making ten so far heard from. The Raid on Sloan's Ranch. Milton Sage, Chief-of-Scouts at San Carlos Indian Agency, who was sent in pursuit of the Indians who raided Sloan's ranch has rendered his report. It confirms the statement recently made in the Belt as to the damage done by the raiders. On his return to the reservation he arrested the two Tonto Apache Chiefs Chi-qui-ta-ha and Ka-gusa, and nine of the depre-dators, and also succeeded in recovering the stolen property. They were tried before Lieutenant Davis, found guilty, and seven of them sentenced to terms of six months' imprisonment each, and two of them to two months each. The property taken from Sloan is held subject to his order. The prompt action in this case is commendable, and ought to be attended with good results.

LATER—We are sorry to have to spoil a good story. We wrote the above item with the published report of Sage before us. We have just been informed on good authority that Archie McIntosh made the arrests, at the request of Agent Wilcox, and that Sage made none of them. McIntosh will be in Globe to-morrow, and we shall get his version. Truth seems to be below par at Wilcox's headquarters.

W. A. Holmes is in receipt of a letter from Ed Bowen, of Pioneer Camp bearing date a few days since, in which it is stated: "There was quite an Indian excitement here a few days since; about twenty red devils were camped three miles below here. We had formed a company to go and take them in, but they left before we could make our arrangements."

Mr. Robb returned to Globe after our editorial page was full. He will pay his respects to Agent Wilcox, after his own manner, next week.

Mr. Bellnap, of Colorado, has recently arrived at San Carlos. We understand that he comes to accept a clerkship. He is a bright young man, and a pleasant travelling companion.

J. B. Wallace, one of the U. S. Military operators at Silver City, N. M., has been tendered the position of operator at San Carlos, in place of Hunter, who is to be removed for not illegally divulging the contents of private dispatches to Agent Wilcox. The Sentinel says that Wallace will reconnoiter San Carlos before deciding as to whether he will accept.

The masquerade ball to be given by the Odd-Fellows of Globe on the anniversary of the founding of the order on this continent promises to be a pleasant and unique affair. Care will be taken to see that the company is select, as a special committee has been appointed to examine each applicant. Go to Schein's and order your costume, and let us make the occasion a complete success. See ad. in another column.

Robbery at Bowie Station.

A private letter informs us that Mr. Wickersham, of the firm of Solomon & Wickersham, doing business at Bowie Station, was compelled to open the firm's safe and give money to two robbers, on the night of the 15th instant. They got away with about $400. One of the robbers is a tall, smooth-faced, raw-boned man, wearing a broad-brim, light-colored hat, turned down all around; he had a nickle-plated, white-handled six-shooter. The other robber was a little short man; he had a white handkerchief tied around his face, and did not give Wickersham an opportunity to get even a glimpse of his eyes; he was armed with a new Winchester.

LETTER FROM CHAS. T. CONNELL.

Correcting Some of the False Statements in Agent Wilcox's "Letter of Defense."

Globe, A. T., March 23, 1883. Editor Belt:—Dear Sir: Please allow me space to reply to some false statements in Agent Wilcox's "letter of defense."

First.—In regard to my harboring John T. Burgess, I have this to state. Burgess was in my employ as a clerk, Pangborn, then acting Agent at San Carlos, I gave him up and he accepted the position of Chief of Scouts made vacant by the killing of Colvig. In that capacity he rendered faithful service for a long time, as he had always done, and he finally, resigned of his own accord, and was not driven from the agency, as Wilcox falsely states, as the following autograph letter signed by himself proves:

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE, SAN CARLOS AGENCY, October 13, 1882. J. D. BURGESS, Chief of Scouts—Dear Sir:—Your resignation is accepted. Chief of "Military Scouts" Sieber has been detailed by Captain Crawford to act until the place can be filled. Respectfully, P. P. Wilcox. Mr. Showalter will receive all government property in your hands. P. P. W.

Second.—There was a single accusation (a false one) that Chief of Scouts Burgess had furnished arms to an Indian. The facts were these: The Indian was legitimately in the employ of Burgess, who mounted him on a horse and gave him a gun to take to his (Burgess) mining camp. The Indian gambled the horse off and did not go. Meanwhile Burgess had resigned and had been absent from the agency for a month. While away he wrote to me to get the gun and the horse. On his return, learning that he was charged with selling the gun to the Indian for $30, he sent for the Indian, and in the presence of the present Chief of Scouts, Mr. Sage, he ordered the Indian to return him his gun. The Indian at once went with his wick-i-up and brought it. Burgess now has it.

Third.—Wilcox's statement that young Wratten had endeavored to have him assassinated has a still more fragile foundation. When C. Wilcox, of Denver, a supposed relative of the Agent, was Acting Chief of Scouts, he held a conversation with young Wratten, during which the latter made the remark that Wilcox would never live to see myself and Mr. Wood removed—the idea being that Wilcox had not the grounds or the power to do so. This Chief of Scouts, Wilcox, was so evidently an undesirable man and wholly incompetent, that even his namesake, Agent Wilcox, could not stand him, and therefore removed him. He then went and made a lying affidavit that young Wratten had threatened the life of the Agent. On going away from the agency, this vile man left his affidavit sealed in an envelope, with instructions to Agent Wilcox not to break the seal until he was a hundred miles away. Mr. Wratten is the son of Judge Wratten, of Albuquerque, and late of Florence, and has always borne an excellent reputation.

Respectfully yours etc. CHAS. T. CONNELL

The men who fell 300 feet in the Pioneer shaft are steadily improving. Supt. Comstock handed us on Thursday the following letter:

"On the morning of the 13th we were ready to go down in the mine (the engineer being at breakfast,) when the Foreman who was at the engine, gave us the word "all right" to get on the bucket, and when the third man got on he seemed to move a little. One of the boys said to the fourth one: "Come, get on or you will get left," not thinking but what everything was all right as usual. In a second our gum coats blew over our heads. When we were found in the bottom John Jenkins was in the bucket, Sparrow was lying on the wall-plate and Tom Desmond was in a half sitting position on a piece that was lying across the shaft while John Laity was sitting down in the sump. The two men who came to our rescue by the rope from the 200 foot level are respectively named Charles Trenborth and J. J. Smith. John Jenkins said that his jaw is tied up pretty tight now but he thinks that in a few days he will be able to crack a nut or pick a bone. Under the good treatment of Dr. Cook we are all doing as well as can be expected, we are very thankful that there is such a man in the Territory as Dr. Cook. Under such circumstances.

JOHN LAITY, JOHN JENKINS, H. SPARROW, T. DESMOND.

WILCOX, March 20, 1883.

EDITOR SILVER BELT, Globe, A. T.—Dear Sir: This morning at an early hour I heard a man remark that he had been frightened nearly to death by some Indians. As the subject of Indians is one of interest to the citizens of Arizona, I asked him the particulars, which he readily gave: He said he was walking on the track making his way from Dragoon Summit to this place. While within six or seven miles of this place he saw and heard a party of men coming down the valley at right angles with the track. It being dark he mistook them for Mexicans, but on a near approach he was enabled by the sound of their voices to tell who they were. He immediately hid behind an embankment near at hand, and happily for him (so he thinks) was not discovered. He saw about thirty Apaches, some of them in squads, but all well armed and driving a number of animals well packed. They were travelling in a southerly direction. The above is the substance of his story, and judging from the man's appearance I think he told the truth. Now for surmises. It is my opinion that these are renegades leaving San Carlos with a supply of provisions for those hostiles already doing mischief below the line, and I think it a pertinent question to ask Agent Wilcox if he is aware of his wards being so far from the reservation. It is more than right that all of us should know who they are and what they are doing off in this section of the country. We don't believe the Apaches are afraid to leave the reservation, and we also think the warm weather will stir them out more than any of us are aware of, but we trust not. Thinking, perhaps, you may find room in your columns for the above, I remain, Yours, HARD TIMES.

A fine selection of young fruit-trees from the Janesville (Ohio) nurseries arrived in Globe on Monday week, having been forwarded by D. N. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Michigan, to Patrick Shanley, of McMillen, and Dr. Stallo. The young trees consisted of plums, peaches, apricots, grapes, etc., and they arrived in good condition.

Associate-editor Robb says he was punching burros in the mountains of Arizona and Mexico when Wilcox was doing Teller's dirty work in Denver. It's Wilcox who is the tender-foot, not Robb.
